

Privacy Policy

Louisiana-Pacific Corporation (LP) takes your personal privacy seriously. Because we value our relationships with our customers and others who visit our site, we do not sell personal information or share it with any organizations outside LP and its subsidiaries, affiliates and representatives, unless required by law or as disclosed to you before the information is collected.

HOW PERSONAL INFORMATION IS COLLECTED AND USED

LP only collects personal information that you voluntarily submit through our websites. This may include information such as your name, street and email addresses, and telephone number. We do not automatically collect personal information without your knowledge.

For certain promotions or product requests, we may share your information with an outside order fulfillment representative for the sole purpose of fulfilling your order. These companies are carefully selected by LP and also take the protection of your personal information seriously.

To improve your visit to our sites, we may use “cookies” to obtain non-personal information. Cookies are text information files that your browser places on your computer when you visit a website. We may aggregate this data to analyze the viewing habits of our site visitors, but it will not be associated with any personal identifiable data. Additionally, for some users after signing up for offered services and/or products, LP’s website may generate cookies saved by a user’s computer to bypass sign-in functions upon future visits to LP’s website.

USES OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

When you submit personal information to LP, we will only use it to:

- Respond to your questions or comments
- Better understand your purchasing habits and needs
- Help us understand how we can improve our products, services and website
- Inform you about special promotions
- Contact you to ask for your opinion or willingness to participate in certain events
- Protect personal information

Privacy has always been important to LP. We use appropriate technical and managerial procedures to protect your personal information and to prevent its disclosure outside of LP. Only those authorized by LP will be granted access to your personal information.

In addition to careful consideration about what information you share and who you share it with, we recommend as applicable that those providing personal information maintain good security habits. These include protecting and regularly changing your passwords, using computer virus protection, logging off when you finish using your computer, and considering the use of file or email encryption programs.

PRIVACY CONCERNS

If you have any concerns related to the privacy of your personal information, please notify LP’s Corporate Information Technology department by email at webmaster@lpcorp.com or via mail at: LP Corporate IT, Attn: Webmaster, 805 SW Broadway, Suite 1000, Portland, OR 97205.

We will make every reasonable effort to investigate and correct any issues promptly.

CHANGES TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY

LP retains the right to amend or discontinue this Internet Privacy Policy at its discretion. Please review this policy section regularly for updated information.
